

Thomas Mercer

Federal employees who are not terminated/bought out should be redirected to work that advances AI development. Whether working on semiconductor production, training AIs, etc. Our tax dollars should be put to the best use possible, to ensure we remain the leaders in AI. Low/mid skill workers should be encouraged to automate themselves out of a job, and be guaranteed/rewarded new and better jobs.