I do not believe AI has any place in the future, it is something I tend to hear and see in a negative context when I'm with people. The only positive news I hear of AI is by people who have been proven to scam and hurt others using AI generative art and other text-based generative content. I do not trust it and I do not want my own posts and information that I put online to be used to train such programs. I no longer feel confident in posting my art online as I'm constantly in fear of some company using it to train their AI program and steal my likeness. I want to be able to know that AI won't steal from me and others without permission. In fact, AI does not belong online or by a company, period. Do not let AI steal or use content without permission.
